BEST LOCATION TYPES & HOW TO SHOOT THEM

Urban Rooftops

- › Golden hour: 1h after sunrise, 1h before sunset
- › Use leading lines — fire escapes, ledges, railings
- › Subject at edge, city soft-blurred behind

Ancient Ruins & Temples

- › Early morning = no crowds + golden light
- › Frame with arches and doorways
- › Silhouette poses work especially well here

Beaches & Coastline

- › Blue hour (just after sunset) for dreamy tones
- › Long exposure for silky water effect
- › Rule of thirds: horizon at top or bottom, not centre

Mountain Peaks

- › Overcast day = perfect diffused light
- › Always include a person to show scale
- › Use foreground rocks or snow for depth

Markets & Street Scenes

- › High shutter speed — freeze the movement
- › Shoot at stall height, not eye level
- › Candid beats posed in busy environments

Forests & Nature

- › Backlight through trees: stand between sun and lens
- › Look down — ground textures, shadows, roots
- › Wide aperture f/1.8–2.8 isolates subject beautifully

Solo Poses That Always Work

Walking Away

- › Back to camera, looking forward
- › Works anywhere: city, nature, architecture

The Look-Up

- › Stand below landmark, look up with slight smile
- › Great for buildings, cathedrals, forests

Sitting + Thinking

- › Perched on ledge, looking to the side
- › Add a coffee, book, or map as a prop

Mid-Motion

- › Walking, spinning, fixing hair — caught mid-action
- › Feels authentic; avoid over-staged looks

Silhouette

- › Full profile against sunset or window light
- › Works even without a skilled photographer

SELF-TIMER TIPS

- ♦ Mini tripod + Bluetooth remote — €15 total
- ♦ Burst mode ×10: pick the best one
- ♦ Pre-focus: place a bottle at exact spot you'll stand
- ♦ Natural framing (doorway, tree gap) hides the tripod

Partner & Group Shots

The Walk Together

- › Side by side from behind — hands linked
- › Shoot wide to include surroundings

Forehead Touch

- › Faces close, eyes closed — intimate and timeless
- › Works in any light; use portrait mode

Lead + Follow

- › One looks back, other walks ahead
- › Creates story and movement in a still frame

The Candid Laugh

- › Tell a joke just before the shot
- › Ask photographer to shoot before 'ready'

GROUP TIPS

Staggered Levels

- › Different heights — steps, ledges, crouching
- › Avoids the flat 'school photo' look

Action Shot

- › All jumping, high-fiving — 3-2-1 burst
- › One candid per location; rest can be posed

Looking In, Not Out

- › All looking at same thing: view, menu, map
- › Creates natural visual unity in the group

"The best photo isn't the most posed — it's the most present.

Put the phone down for 10 minutes. Then take 3 intentional shots."
